Cookies

Cookies are very small text files that are stored on your computer when you visit some websites. They are commonly used to retain settings or other features ready for your next visit.

We use cookies to make InstantAtlas™ Server perform better; remember various user settings; identify logged in users and better tailor the site to the end user. None of the cookies set by InstantAtlas™ Server software are classed as intrusive.

Information on deleting or controlling cookies is available at www.AboutCookies.org. Please note that by deleting our cookies or disabling future cookies the website will not work as designed and some functionality may not work.

Cookie Name	Description	Expiry
ias.UISkin	Remembers which "look and feel" you have applied to the IAS user website (if there is more than one available)	End of session
ias.PreferredItemCount	Remembers how many items you like to see in a list by default	End of session
ias.fontSize	Remembers any choices you have made to increase/decrease the default font size using the buttons in the top right	End of session
ias.Locale	Remembers the choice you made about which locale/language to view the site in (if more than one available)	After 1 month
ias.<ThemeTreeID>_Expanded	Remembers the choices you made about which themes were expanded in a tree (on a tree by tree basis – different cookies for different trees)	End of session
ias.LastActivityDate	Remembers the last time you logged in to the IAS user website so that the "latest changes" box shows the correct items	End of session
.IASASPXAUTH	The built-in forms authentication cookie for ASP.NET. Used when user logs in.	End of session
ASP.NET_SessionId	Built-in ASP.NET cookie that records which server session you are currently connected to	End of session

Organisations may add further functionality to InstantAtlas™ Server that can cause additional cookies to be set. Common examples of these are the use of tracking software such as Google Analytics. These cookies do not form part of the InstantAtlas™ Server software and are not described in this table.
